A Welcome to The Friends of the
Carthage Free Library
From
Library Director
Linda McCullough

We're happy you are considering joining us. We depend on our Friends group and all the help they give to the library in so many ways.

Friends can raise money to support special programs and purchase books, movies and supplies for the library.

Fundraising comes from sales, special events and membership dues.

Friends can also volunteer at the Library.

Friends help us do so much more than we can do alone. We look forward to welcoming you into our Library Family!

Linda McCullough

What do the Friends of the Carthage Free Library do?

Friends help the library in many ways. As a friend you choose how involved you want to be

Friends work within the community to create awareness of the Library's needs and the services offered.

Friends can volunteer to work in a variety of programming that the Library offers, according to their own interests and preferences.

Friends can support the Library through fund raising activities and events.

Or you might suggest new programming
